Mississippi police say two Biloxi women have been accused of stealing about $2,000 from an Arkansas man they met at a local casino bar.

Sgt. Donnie Dobbs tells The Sun Herald that the women befriended the man and his friend, and socialized and gambled with them before going to the man's hotel room. The man called police Saturday and reported his cash was missing.

Police identified the women as 20-year-old Ashley Nicole Becker and 22-year-old Haley Nichole Normand. Police say both women were charged with grand larceny.

It was not immediately known whether the women have attorneys
