Gambling is legalized throughout Germany and there are more than 50 casinos to choose from. Most of the gambling venues are located in the spa or resort towns and they will have the word 'bad' at the beginning of their names indicating a bath or spa.

Permitted types of land-based gambling are casinos, gambling arcades, restaurants (pubs and restaurants and lodging establishments) and bookmakers' betting offices, horse betting, sports betting, and lottery.

Former iterations of the Interstate Treaty in Germany did not provide a licensing system for online gaming (with the exception of sports betting). This situation had been criticized by industry experts. The Interstate Treaty 2021 changed this fundamentally and finally introduced licenses for online casino games, virtual slot machine games and online poker. You can find it online, just type in 25 euro ohne einzahlung casino. Within the German federal system, gambling law is regulated at the state level, all 16 states agreed on common principles and regulations for areas fields of gambling law in the Interstate Treaty. In Germany, there are no localities with favored status for gambling such as in other countries, tourist islands, reservations and integrated resorts. Virtual slot machine games in Germany are defined as replicas of terrestrial slot machine games. Limitations include a maximum €1 stake amount per spin, a five-second minimum duration per spin, and the prohibition of jackpots. Online poker is restricted, including the prohibition of video poker, restrictions on the number of tables to be played at the same time, and limitations on stakes and blinds. Online casino games are defined as virtual versions of the bank-holder games and live broadcasts of a terrestrial banker game. These restrictions specifically address roulette, blackjack, and baccarat and subject them to a state monopoly.
